

Hi,

My name is Spencer Lowe. I'd like to make a complaint against the FCC chairperson Ajit Pai for working to revoke net neutrality, which is against the will of the American People. It is disgusting move, whose only purpose is to line Mr. Pai's pockets and the pockets of the corporations paying him. Net neutrality keeps service providers from unfairly throttling and charging certain websites. It additionally ensures that consumers maintain access to the essential utility of the internet without having to pay special fees for certain websites. The economic, political and social ramification of revoking net neutrality are wide and none of these ramifications are good for the american people.

Thank you,
Spencer Lowe
